Skin contact with mud may cause irritation, itching and/or a rash. This condition is called folliculitis. It is transient in nature and usually clears up on its own. If you have sensitive skin or you experience any irritation upon contact with mud during this event, please rinse off the affected area with soap and water.

Do not ingest mud or allow mud to come into contact with your eyes. If that happens, please seek medical attention and rinse out your mouth/eyes with clean water.

Mud contains many different types of bacteria and other irritants. Please rinse off any residual mud or dirt from your skin or take a shower and change into clean clothes as soon as possible after the event.
